BLACKHAWK! SERPA™ QUICK DISCONNECT SYSTEM Now You Can Change Your Platform As Rapidly As Your Mission

NORFOLK, VA - BLACKHAWK! Products Group is proud to announce the latest development in the continuing evolution within the SERPA™ line of holsters. When your mission changes the new SERPA Quick Disconnect System allows for rapid platform changes with no tools required. Within seconds, you will be able to change your SERPA holster from a duty belt to a Tactical platform for SWAT use, from MOLLE vest to a shoulder harness, all with one hand. The variations for the SERPA Quick Disconnect System are limited only by your imagination.

The SERPA Quick Disconnect System works by placing a holster adapter on your SERPA holster and placing the 2 holster mounts on whichever 2 platforms you use; duty belt loop, Tac Platform, S.T.R.I.K.E. CQC Platform, or others. The holster adapter's teeth slip into the slots of the holster mounts. Simply rotate one click clockwise and the two release tabs lock the teeth into place. The release tabs are located on the top and bottom of the mounts. The tabs are protected when the holster is in a straight up and down orientation on the duty belt loop and leg platform, where they are most at risk of becoming snagged. To remove, pull the two release tabs forward and rotate the holster one click counter-clockwise and it releases the holster. This system also allows complete angle adjustment, with no tools required.

The BLACKHAWK! SERPA Quick Disconnect System includes two female adapters and one male adapter. Male and female adapters also sold separately, so you can set up as many holsters and platforms as you need. Both the SERPA QD kit and the separate components are available in black, coyote tan, foliage green and olive drab.
